Sharon L. Gleason was appointed to Superior Court in 2001 through the efforts of her husband, Bill Cotton, then Executive Director, Alaska Judicial Council. He then retired. Prior to manipulating a Superior Court judgeship for his now former wife, Mr. Cotton was supervisor for probably 20 years to Ms. Teri Carns, Associate Director, Alaska Judicial Council, and employee there since about 1974 or 36 years.

Mr. Cotton had to have authorized, encouraged, and coached Ms. Carns to testify in USA vs. TNO A94-0074 CR file <http://www.tobermeyer.info/transcript.html> "Testimony of Teresa Carns." After she testified, she had so much money that she, her husband, and her two children went on "sabbatical" for one year traveling all over the U.S.

Ms. Gleason proved that she knows full well how significant the issues we have raised are by including in Moore vs. State 3AN-04-9756 CI "(quoting Application of Obermeyer, 717 P.2d (sic) 382, 386-87 (Alaska 1986))."

Sharon L. Gleason should not be recommended for Retention by Alaska Judicial Council.
